For over 18 years, the MAUS range of business planning, human resource and business process resources has been shipped to over 55,000 businesses and has been used in over 30 education institutions.

MAUS boasts an international network of independent Business Coaches, Consultants, Advisors and Business Brokers who have been trained to the highest levels of expertise in the implementation of the MAUS award-winning software and the methodologies and concepts behind them.

"Best of Breed" Coaching Methodologies

Leverage the years of experience of the MAUS systems and methodologies and save yourself thousands of hours in development time. Run an independent business with your own business model rather than as a franchisee with the typical constraints and excessive cost burdens.

Proven Systems and Methodologies

MAUS has developed simple to follow business processes that have evolved over many years of trial and error. We will educate you on these systems and help you create a Coaching/Consultancy business that really works. From sales scripts and meeting presentation skills to methods for packaging your services and creating real life balance, we provide you with proven techniques to incorporate into your business.

Guaranteed Winning Client Processes

Our lead generation and conversion processes are delivered through award-winning software with a 100% money back guarantee*. We will show you step-by-step how to implement these proven winning client techniques into your own business. This means that once you've been shown the way, the only thing holding you back is you!

Who are your Target Clients?

MAUS Accredited Partners primarily work with CEOs and Managers of companies that have a revenue spread of $1 million to $50 Million.

What do we teach you?

During the intensive training program you will learn:

- The proven business systems that have helped many Business Coaches achieve their goals.
- All you need to know to generate leads, win clients and conduct successful, recurring revenue coaching assignments.
- How to market yourself as a Coach/Consultant and the techniques for “becoming an expert.”
- How to use MAUS award-winning technology to leverage your time, package your services and charge on the value you provide.

Become an Exit Strategist

- As part of the program we will teach you the techniques for preparing a business for sale and how to be a champion to your clients by helping them get the maximum possible sale price for their business.

The accelerated Accredited Partner Training Program is followed by continual support and mentoring to ensure your success.

No lock-in contracts and no geographical boundaries. Reasonable membership and annual renewal fees.

Membership fees cover all your training, tools, and resources to help you fast-track your business. Annual fees provide you with the continuation of your membership as an Accredited Partner including ongoing software licensing and upgrades, professional development through optional meetings including the annual Accredited Partner Conference, plus continued email and phone support.

What's involved in the training?

Before attending training there is a component of pre-course curriculum that will prepare you to learn.

Due to the intensive nature of the induction session, you must prepare in advance in order to make the most of your time spent with the MAUS trainers. This pre-course work is sent to you when you join the program.

Our training simulates real client-consultant interaction through case studies. This facilitates rapid personal and professional growth.

Be part of an International Network

By joining MAUS you become part of an international network of leaders who have experienced great success in their own right. MAUS Accredited Partners operate at the pinnacle of their fields, and before becoming coaches were working at the highest levels of management.

You have the opportunity to learn from these talented practitioners.

What makes a great MAUS Accredited Partner?

Becoming part of our team means you are someone with:
